

Marina Birgu

Birgu is the foremost maritime city of Malta which has been the centre of seafaring activity on the island for over 1000 years. In the Middle Ages, the harbour provided services such as dry-docks, storage facilities and above all a safe haven where merchants from the maritime cities of Genoa and Spain called to trade and take on supplies. All this happened under the protection of the castle that was built on the head of the Birgu promontory.

Today, one can visit and experience many of the sites associated with various historical events that happened around Birgu. For example, the modern yacht marina is based just off the Birgu waterfront, which is made up of extraordinary buildings associated with the naval squadron of the Knights of St John. Fort St Angelo still stands proudly at the entrance to Dockyard Creek, witness to nearly one thousand years of history and numerous battles. The old naval bakery today hosts the Malta Maritime Museum where one can admire unique artefacts on display, each shedding light on the links between humans and the sea. The narrow and winding streets of the walled town are charming in themselves and one can stumble across architectural gems such as the Inquisitor's Palace.

Following the departure of the Royal Navy, the recent construction of the ultra-modern yacht marina has given a new maritime function to this beautiful historic harbour. Yachts from all over the Mediterranean and beyond now call at this unique destination to make the most of its maritime pedigree and its strategic location in the centre of the Mediterranean Sea.

It is from this lovely base that you can plan your own sailing. Visit the three islands of Gozo Comino and Cominotto with their pristine beaches and caves. Gozo is the second biggest island full of character and charm. One can either use the good marina at Mgarr Harbour or anchor in one of the beaches. Quiet compared to Malta, Gozo definitely is worth a visit ashore. Comino is excellent for swimming in the famous blue lagoon which also provides excellent shelter from all winds for anchoring at night. From here you can sail round the Maltese Islands returning for an evening dip in the pristine waters of the lagoon. In Malta the large Mellieha Bay facing NE makes for excellent anchoring with unlimited space (Mellieha Bay is safe even in a moderate NE wind).

Malta: 7 days itinerary

Departure: Birgu Grand Harbour Marina

Total distance: 106 nautical miles approximately

1st day: Embarkation

2nd day: G.H.Marina - Mgarr Gozo (15 nm)

3rd day: Tour of Gozo (25 nm)

4th day: Gozo - Comino (4 nm)

5th day: Blue Lagoon - Cominotto - Comino (10 nm)

6th day: Tour of Malta (40 nm)

7th day: Day at Blue Lagoon - G.H. Marina (12 nm)

8th day: Disembarkation

14 days itinerary

Departure: Grand Harbour Marina Birgu

Total distance: 390 nautical miles approximately

1st day: Embarkation

2nd day: G.H. Marina - Comino (12 nm)

3rd day: Tour of Malta - Comino Blue Lagoon (45 nm)

4th day: Comino - Gozo (Mgarr Harbour) (4 nm)

5th day: Tour of Gozo (25 nm)

6th day: Gozo - Filfla - Gozo (18 nm)

7th day: Gozo - Marzamemi (Sicily) (57 nm)

8th day: Marzamemi - Syracuse (30 nm)

9th day: Syracuse - Giardini Naxos (39 nm)

10th day: Giardini Naxos - Taormina (5 nm)

11th day: Taormina - Syracuse (44 nm)

12th day: Syracuse - Porto Palo (35 nm)

13th day: Porto Palo - Mgarr Gozo (61 nm)

14th day: Mgarr Gozo - G.H. Marina (15 nm)

15th day: Disembarkation

Alternative anchorages are Gnejna Bay only untenable in strong NW and Fomm ir rieh bay facing NW. The Maltese Islands are packed with 5000 years of history and pre history so it can even make sense to spend a few hours ashore visiting a few of the historical sites.

